1 Nature of arrangement

This document is a common-law licence to occupy a specified room within residential premises in Victoria. It is not a residential tenancy agreement.

The owner named in the schedule resides on the premises and retains overall control, possession and management of the whole property, including shared areas and the allocated room.

The resident is granted permission to occupy only the allocated room described in the schedule and to use the shared areas on the terms below. The resident is not granted exclusive possession of the premises or any part of the premises.

The Residential Tenancies Act 1997 (Vic) does not apply to this arrangement. No security deposit under this licence is lodged with the Residential Tenancies Bond Authority (RTBA).

2 Room and shared areas

The resident is licensed to occupy the allocated bedroom at the property address in the schedule. Unless otherwise agreed in writing, the kitchen, bathroom, laundry and living areas are shared with the owner and any other occupants the owner permits on the premises.

3 Owner's right of entry

Because the resident does not have exclusive possession, the owner may enter the allocated room at reasonable times for cleaning, maintenance, inspection or to fulfil the owner's obligations under this licence, without the notice requirements that apply to residential tenancies.

The owner retains keys or other means of access to the allocated room. The resident must not change locks or security devices without the owner's prior written consent.

The resident must not represent that they have sole or exclusive occupation of the premises or exclude the owner from the allocated room or shared areas.

4 Financial terms

The resident must pay the weekly licence fee of $380.00 in advance, by the payment method stated in the schedule: Direct credit to Sam Sample, Example Bank, BSB 000-000, account 00000000.

The weekly licence fee is paid to the account set out in clause 11.

Unless otherwise agreed in writing or stated in the schedule, electricity, gas, water, internet and waste services for the premises are as described on the property listing or in move-in information. Shared utilities are allocated fairly between occupants as the owner directs.

5 Security deposit

Where a security deposit is agreed, it is held directly by the owner and is not lodged with any statutory bond authority.

Any security deposit under this licence is paid to the same account set out in clause 11.

The agreed security deposit is $760.00.

- The owner must give the resident a written receipt when the security deposit is paid.
- The security deposit may be applied against amounts owing under this licence, damage beyond fair wear and tear, or cleaning required to restore the allocated room and the resident's share of shared areas, subject to any agreement between the parties.
- Unused amounts of the security deposit must be returned to the resident within a reasonable time after the licence ends and the resident has vacated, less lawful deductions.

6 Termination

Either party may end this licence by giving the other party written notice. The notice period must be reasonable and aligned to how the weekly licence fee is paid:

- where the licence fee is payable weekly, at least one week's written notice;

Either party may end the licence immediately where:

- Non-payment of the licence fee or other agreed charges after written reminder.
- Serious breach of this licence or the house rules (including damage, nuisance, or unsafe conduct).
- Mutual agreement in writing.
- Where the owner requires the premises for genuine change of circumstances, subject to the agreed notice period.

This licence is not governed by the Residential Tenancies Act 1997 (Vic). The parties do not rely on prescribed residential tenancy notice periods or tribunal pathways under that Act.

7 Australian Consumer Law

Although the Residential Tenancies Act 1997 (Vic) does not apply, this licence is a consumer contract for the purposes of the Australian Consumer Law (Cth) as applied in Victoria. Terms that are unfair within the meaning of that law may be void. Neither party may engage in misleading or deceptive conduct in connection with this licence.

8 House rules

The resident must comply with the following house rules. Additional rules may be notified by the owner in writing.

- Quiet hours 10pm-7am. No shoes on carpet. Owner uses kitchen 7-9am weekdays.

9 Care of room and shared areas

- Keep the allocated room and shared areas the resident uses in a reasonably clean condition.
- Report damage, maintenance needs or safety concerns to the owner promptly.
- Must not intentionally or negligently damage the premises or cause nuisance to the owner or other occupants.

10 Disputes

The parties will attempt to resolve any dispute about this licence in good faith. If the dispute is not resolved within 14 days, either party may refer the matter to a court of Victoria with jurisdiction. Nothing in this clause requires application to VCAT under the Residential Tenancies Act 1997 (Vic).

11 Quni Living

Quni Living is a technology platform. It is not a real estate agent and it does not provide agency, letting or property management services. It does not act for the Owner, it does not conduct the letting, and it is not a party to this agreement. The weekly licence fee is paid to the Owner at the account named in this agreement. The resident pays Quni Living nothing.

Direct credit details for payment of the weekly licence fee and security deposit are set out below and are also shown on the Platform and in booking correspondence.

12 Condition report

The parties acknowledge that an ingoing condition report may be prepared for the allocated room and shared areas. The resident will be given a reasonable opportunity to review and comment on the report and to attach photographs where appropriate.

The resident should return a signed copy or written comments within the timeframe notified by the owner or the platform, failing which the report may be taken as accepted except for manifest errors or items the resident could not reasonably have inspected.

At the end of the licence, an outgoing condition report may be used to compare the state of the allocated room and shared areas with the ingoing report, fair wear and tear excepted.

13 Additional terms

- Co-occupant (partner) may stay up to 3 nights per week with owner consent.

14 Execution

The parties intend that electronic signing, where used, is valid and binding. Signature and date fields may be completed through a future signing workflow.
